All Ploesti Oil Area Captured

Germans Admit Lines at Warsaw Breached by Russ

LONDON (CP) — Russian troops have captured Ploesti, Marshal Stalin announced tonight.

The whole Ploesti oil region is in the hands of the Red Army, Stalin declared in an order of the day.

Meanwhile the German radio tonight said the Russians had resumed their offensive north of Warsaw and breached German lines at a number of points. The Red army in that area threatened not only to outflank the Polish capital, but menaces the defences of East Prussia as well.

The Ploesti oil region that once supplied Germany with a great proportion of her oil needs was taken by troops of the 2nd Ukrainian Army, commanded by Gen. Rodion Y. Malinovsky.

They "captured the town and main centre of the Romanian oil industry, Ploesti," today, Stalin said, and "by the occupation of Buzau and Ploesti the liberation of all the Romanian oil regions from the German invaders is completed."

GUNS ROAR SALUTE

Stalin called for a salute of 20 salvos from 224 guns.

Allied supreme headquarters had estimated capture of Ploesti's oil refineries would mean an immediate loss to the Germans of 2,000,000 tons of annual producing capacity.

Moscow dispatches said beaten Germans had fled their last Black Sea strongholds as Russia, with troops within 23 miles of Bulgaria, appealed to the Bulgars for support in quick liberation of the Balkans.

The capture of Constanta, Romania's largest port, appeared likely to be followed within a few hours by a complete mop-up of scattered German forces in the Bucharest-Ploesti zone by Soviet armored columns last reported 37 miles to the northeast.

The Nazi rout in Wallachia province was so disorderly road and rail bridges escaped demolition. Little sabotage was reported in the Ploesti oil fields.

(The German communique today claimed Russian attacks were checked in the Buzau area of Romania and Soviet troops invading Transylvania, part of Hungary since 1940, had been thrown back in counterattacks.)

JARRED BY BLOWS

With Hungary in the hands of a new government of generals and the Germans hastily increasing their garrison in the rump state of Slovakia, central Europe continued to be jarred politically as well as militarily by the powerful blows of Red Army groups under Gen. Rodion Y. Malinovsky and Gen. Fedor I. Tolbukhin.

Bulgaria was warned that passive neutrality was not enough. The Bulgars watched Red warships cruising beyond Constanta in unchallenged supremacy of the Black Sea. Balck, a Romanian port less than 10 miles north of Bulgarian Dobrudja, seemed an easy prize for another Russian amphibious assault.

A completed German collapse in the Balkans, perhaps within a few days, was seen as hinging on possible Bulgarian action. Large withdrawals of German units from Greece have been reported.

Trip West Denied

OTTAWA — Canadian Press dispatch saying that Prime Minister Mackenzie King was going to the Pacific coast was denied here today. Mr. King authorized the statement that he at present has no plans for a Pacific coast trip and already has all his time here booked ahead until the end of September.

LONDON (CP) — The Czechoslovak underground army came into the open today as a fighting unit. In its first communique, delivered to London by underground radio, it reported the capture of one town and fierce fighting against the Germans in four areas.

Temperature Hits 88

The mercury was headed for the 90-mark this afternoon. After touching 83 at noon, the temperature rose to 85 at 1.15 and another three degrees was added before 3. It may go still higher.

Tuesday the temperature touched a high for any Aug. 29 in the last 66 years.

Astaire In England

LONDON (AP) — Fred Astaire reached England today to entertain troops.

The fund stands at $2,698.14, today. Subscriptions may be sent to Kay McIntyre, Times editorial, who is acting as secretary-treasurer, or in Duncan to J. B. Creighton, Cowichan Leader.

Paris Patriots Join LeClerc's Regular Army

LONDON (CP) — Members of the French Forces of the Interior in Paris are being formed into an infantry battalion, the Paris radio said today, and will be incorporated as rapidly as possible in Brig. Gen. Jacques LeClerc's regular army units. Other military formations are being recruited from the F.F.I. in Provence and Brittany, the broadcast said.

Allies Score 27-Mile Advance Up Rhone Valley

By GEORGE TUCKER

ROME (AP) — Allied troops forging up the Rhone valley have reached within six miles of Valence, 27 miles upriver from captured Montellimar, and about 115 airline miles north of Marseille, headquarters announced tonight.

The push carried well north of the junction of the Rhone and Drome Rivers. Infantrymen hit Tuesday night at Germans attempting to escape across the Drome.

Meanwhile, due east near the Italian frontier, U.S. troops were forced back to the outskirts of Briancon, a city of a 4,330-foot elevation in the Hautes Alpes 90 miles north of Nice, by an enemy force which was reported here to have crossed into French territory from Italy.

(Whether this indicated the flight of any large force of German troops from northwestern Italy was not made clear.)

The retreating German force in the Rhone valley, remnants of the Nazi 19th Army, was declared fighting for its very existence.

RETREAT CHAOTIC

Scenes of destruction and chaos lined the road of the enemy's retreat. An army spokesman said today more than 800 German vehicles, including trucks fully loaded, were taken after the enemy abandoned them. Two batteries of German 88s also were taken by the pursuing U.S. forces.

A naval announcement indicated many Germans are fleeing the southern France dragnet by sea in attempts to get to northern Italy. The announcement said numerous small boatsloads of Germans had been captured.

Allied headquarters said the prisoner total had now passed 45,000, more than 10,000 being taken in the Marseille area alone.

TAKE ANOTHER GENERAL

At Montellimar, Rhone valley city more than 100 miles north of Marseille, the Americans captured Maj. Gen. Otto Richter, the sixth German general taken thus far in southern France.

The 198th Infantry Division, which he commanded, and the 11th Panzer Division, have both figured prominently in all Rhone valley actions. Prisoners said this division was recently transferred from Russia.

Begin, colonization; Dr. Camille Pouliot, game and fisheries; Antonio Barrette, labor; Paul Beaulieu, trade and commerce; Laurent Barre, agriculture; Omer Cote, provincial secretary; and Antonio Elie, Tancred Labbe, Dr. Marc Trudel, P. ### Command Shuffle May Make Bradley, Montgomery Equal

LT. GEN. OMAR N. BRADLEY

By WILLIAM FRYE

WASHINGTON (AP) — A new command organization in France giving Lt. Gen. Omar Bradley equal status with Gen. Montgomery as an army group commander was reported today to be nearly ready for formal announcement.

Such a command change previously was reported by correspondents at Gen. Eisenhower's headquarters. The report was received critically by some in Britain, however, who interpreted equal status for Bradley as a "demotion" for Montgomery. In the original invasion organization, Montgomery not only had field command of all British troops but also was senior commander of all Allied ground forces.

After publication of these criticisms, a statement was issued at Allied Supreme Headquarters, Aug. 16 which said:

"It is officially stated at Supreme Headquarters that the announcement of Gen. Bradley's command of the 12th Army Group in no way affects the position of Gen. Montgomery as overall commander of all Allied ground forces in France under Gen. Eisenhower."

Persons closely in touch with the situation said today, however, the British criticisms were unwarranted and that the change has been inevitable since Gen. Eisenhower took his headquarters to France and assumed personal command of the operations.

Newsmen Suspended

ALLIED SUPREME HEADQUARTERS (AP) — Six correspondents accredited to Supreme Headquarters have been suspended in Paris and ordered to return to London for investigation of charges they evaded censorship in filing dispatches, it was announced today. A high-ranking officer at Supreme Headquarters said none of the Associated Press staff which entered Paris was involved.

Nazis Flee Rouen As Canadians Advance on City

By AUSTIN BEALMEAR

ALLIED SUPREME HEADQUARTERS (AP) — U.S. steel and infantry thrust to within 38 miles of the Belgian border today in the Laon region, rolling back the Germans retreating from the Aisne River, while along the Allied front to the west the German high command reported enemy withdrawal from Rouen, on the Seine, object of the present 1st Canadian Army drive.

The United Nations radio at Algiers said Laon had been occupied by the Americans and the Berlin radio heard in London, declared U.S. troops had driven almost to St. Dizier, little more than 80 miles from the German border.

Such a thrust would mean the closest approach yet to the Reich's frontier, and an advance of nearly 20 miles southeast of Vitry-le-Francois on the upper Marne, the last officially reported position of the U.S. 3rd Army's right wing.

Earlier, headquarters had reported the Canadians had already entered Boos, five miles southeast of Rouen, but there was no immediate confirmation here of the fall of that former German stronghold.

Heavy fighting continued in Londe Forest, southwest of Rouen, with the Germans fiercely resisting every Canadian attempt to thrust into the Rouen loop at the city itself.

About three-quarters of the huge wood now is held by the Canadians, but the other quarter is strongly held by the Germans, who are equipped with 88-mm. guns and mortars and a seemingly unlimited number of small arms.

This is the heaviest fighting since Falaise and is in direct contrast with the type of opposition being met by Canadian troops who have crossed the Seine south of Rouen.

PORT DESTROYED

The Germans said they had destroyed Rouen's port facilities before they left it.

Meanwhile British troops carved their way as deep as 20 miles north of the Seine between Paris and the sea, driving on the buzz-bomb coast.

Two great Allied wings were swiftly slicing up northern France.

The U.S. 3rd Army, rolling forward northeast of Paris from two bridgeheads over the Aisne at Soissons and Pont-Arcy 14 miles farther east, struck within two miles of Laon, 19 miles beyond Soissons. The Belgian border was but 38 miles ahead of these columns, picking up more than a mile an hour.

Other units of Lt. Gen. Patton's army penetrated to Montargis, 10 miles southeast of Laon, and 50 miles from Sedan—gate of the Nazi break-through into France in 1940.

Late Payers Queue To Pay Income Tax

A queue formed before the cashier's wicket at the income tax office today as Victorians who have taken advantage of the interest-free hoist in payment came in to beat Thursday's deadline.

Ordinarily taxpayers would have been forced to meet their obligations on April 30 of this year or pay interest at the rate of 5 per cent per annum. Heavy demands on the public's pocket at that time caused special regulations to delay payments until the end of this month.

Many people have used the intervening time to pay installments towards the amount they were required to meet.

No figures could be given by J. S. Stevens, head of the Victoria office, on the numbers who have paid in the last few days or the sums of money outstanding on 1943 taxes. Returns are forwarded to Vancouver by the Victoria department and a final figure will not be available for some time, Mr. Stevens said. He expected the major rush Thursday when the interest payments are applied to accounts outstanding.

Weather Forecast

Victoria and Vicinity—Light to moderate winds, fair and warm today and Thursday.
Tuesday's temperatures: Min: 60; Max: 83. Sunshine: 13 hours. Temperature noon Wednesday, 85. Victoria has over 600 hours more sunshine a year than other coast cities, less than half the rainfall.

Builders Would Ban Foreign-Made Ships From Coastal Trade

OTTAWA (CP)—Restriction of the coasting trade of Canada to vessels now registered in Canada and hereafter built in Canada was one of 10 recommendations recently presented to the federal cabinet and now receiving study by officials, the Canadian Shipbuilding and Ship Repairing Association announced today.

The association represents 18 of Canada's major steel shipbuilding and ship repairing firms. Other recommendations follow: That a national shipping policy be enacted under which Canadian shipowners engaged in foreign trade in and out of Canadian ports will be encouraged, with subsidies if necessary, to build and register their ships in Canada.

That the government consider, as part of the postwar reconstruction policy, the replacement of obsolete vessels employed in the government services by new vessels built in Canada. That all Canadian naval vessels be built in Canada, and the government make representations to the British government whereby educational orders for British naval vessels may be placed in Canada in the postwar period.

That all vessels engaged in the Canadian fishing industries shall hereafter be built in Canada.

Neighborhood Gang Threatened Boy's Life

VANCOUVER (CP)—A neighborhood gang threatened 11-year-old Leslie Cuthbertson "would not live very long" after the boy's disclosure of the names of the two youths he said were responsible for the robbing and fatal beating of David Cuthbertson, 64, of nearby Burnaby, Mrs. William Marion, mother of the boy, told police Tuesday.

Leslie had told police he had witnessed from his bedroom window an attack by two youths on the night watchman last Thursday. Cuthbertson died in hospital Sunday from head injuries complicated by a lung condition. Two youths named by young Leslie are held in a juvenile home pending further investigation.

5 Years a Slaughterhouse, Poland Now Fights Back

By DANIEL DE LUCE
LUBLIN, Poland (AP)—A Poland unbroken in spirit after five years as a Nazi slaughterhouse, gropes courageously today for a new life of freedom and peace.

In Lublin, 35 miles behind the Red Army front and 700 miles from Moscow, a provisional government of Poles exercises wide authority without the appearance of foreign interference.

Roman Catholicism continues as the state religion, and priests teach in the public schools. Church property and lands are untouched.

A peasant market thrives in an open square where the Germans had razed a section of Lublin's medieval ghetto, and the only control on prices there is the law of supply and demand.

Thousands of young Poles, most of them still in civilian clothes, for uniforms are scarce, drill in the cobblestoned streets under grizzled veterans of guerrilla warfare—recruits for a Polish army that is expected soon to be 500,000 men and women. Women carry arms and serve in all types of national defence, except actual combat.

A few score Jews, all that are left of the prewar ghetto population of 40,000, never can efface the memory of the German terror, but, in this new Poland—whose national committee includes a prominent Zionist—there are no barriers of race or creed against them.

Poland still is in the agony of war. Lublin citizens know their kinkfolk have been dying by thousands in the smoldering ruins of Warsaw. But here, where Poles sit in the highest government offices, Polish judges and police conduct the administration of justice, and Polish newspapers forecast an era of prosperous democracy, Polish pride and hope are reborn.

Anti-aircraft guns bark on the outskirts of Lublin and high-flying German observation planes are a daily sight. The stench from the infamous Majanek prison camp, where it is estimated 600,000 or more victims of Nazi sadism were put to death within view of Lublin's cathedral spire, becomes a nauseating reminder when the wind is from the east.

Majdanek is a ghastly fantasy. It was established for murder on a vast but methodical scale. Until a group of British and U.S. correspondents visited it Sunday—with its six concrete vaults for execution by cyanide or carbon monoxide gas, its open-air crematorium surrounded with skeletons, its mounds of human ashes mixed with manure for fertilizing cabbage patches, and its overflow burial ground in a pine wood carpeted with decaying bodies—most of these newspapermen could not even begin to imagine the proportions of its frightful deeds.

HEAR EVIDENCE

That night, our clothes still reeking of the dead, we sat in a stuffy Lublin courtroom while three German S.S. (Elite Guard) officers and one German civilian renegade spoke indifferently of Majdanek's scenes of slaughter, and blamed all on "orders from above."

S.S. Komandofuehrer Theodore Schoelen, 40, in charge of clothing collection at the shower room adjoining the gas chambers, admitted remembering Nov. 3, 1943, when, according to the camp records, 18,400 prisoners received "special treatment," which reduced the number of camp prisoners by that number.

The majority of the dead were Soviet war prisoners, Poles and Jews, but every country in Europe was represented, also China.

No 'Negotiations' With Bulgarians In Signing Peace

LONDON (CP)—An armistice proposal couched in "take it or leave it" terms probably will be handed to Bulgarian emissaries within the next few days, and under present plans probably will be signed in Cairo, a dispatch from that capital said today.

The identities of the Bulgarian delegates, who probably number four, have not been disclosed. It may be some days before the document is signed, but the best available information in Cairo indicated any suggestion of "negotiations" has been avoided carefully.

A new government has been installed meanwhile in Hungary in an apparent German attempt to restore the enemy's last defences against the Red Army offensive in the Balkans.

Berlin broadcasts Tuesday night announced the fall of Premier Dooms Stojanov's regime less than 24 hours after Russian forces had spearheaded deeply within Hungarian-held Transylvania.

The German propaganda agency, Transocean, said Admiral Nicholas Horthy, Hungarian Regent, had appointed Col. Gen. Vitez Geza Lakatos to form a new government. Lakatos' cabinet, announced simultaneously, was studied with military figures.

Lakatos himself was Hungarian commander of the Russian front.

GERMANS WITHDRAW

This abrupt government change in Hungary, under tight Nazi control since Hitler's troops marched in last March, came amid reports from both Axis and Allied sources that the Germans were withdrawing as hurriedly as possible from Bulgaria, now on the verge of peace.

A dispatch from Ankara said it was believed there Stocho Moshanov, Bulgarian peace emissary, already had informed Great Britain and the United States that his country had accepted armistice terms. This dispatch quoted informed sources there as declaring an armistice was imminent and the document might be signed in Cairo.

Docks In Kuriles, Buildings Bombed

AN ALUTIAN BASE (AP Delayed)—U.S. bombers rained destruction on Japanese installations in the Kuriles today (Saturday) with devastating results.

Army pilots reported seeing 25 to 50 buildings burning after their raid against the Kashiwara army depot on Paramushiro. Docks, supply dumps and barges at Onnekotan Island, just south of Paramushiro, were smashed and left burning by Liberators. Navy Venturas made a follow-up strafing attack against shipping at the latter target.

One small patrol ship was sunk by bombers off Paramushiro.

Soldier Welcomes Wife Home

CPL. BOB BOWIE

L. CPL. M. BOWIE

A popular Courtenay couple made history Monday when a tall smiling wounded soldier of the 1st Division, Cpl. Bob Bowie, limped through the crowded waiting room of the Canadian Pacific Red Cross in Vancouver to meet his black-haired prett little wife, L. Cpl. Morag Bowie, just returning from overseas.

Mrs. Bowie, trim in her C.W.A.C. uniform in spite of traveling-jumped from the repatriation train with her black eyes flashing with excitement. She was first to spot her husband leaning on his cane scanning the disembarking train and dashed over and embraced him. Press photographers turned their cameras on what is believed to be the first instance of a wounded Canadian soldier meeting a soldier wife returning from overseas.

"Last time we met," Cpl. Bob said, "was in a hospital in England. I was recovering from my dose of German lead. Then I left just a month ago to come back to Canada and now we are together again!"

The young couple are members of a Courtenay family with a creditable record of war service. Cpl. Bob Bowie joined at the outbreak of war and was badly wounded in Italy. His wife was one of the first Vancouver Island girls to join the C.W.A.C., and went overseas from Victoria after duty at Work Point and the Military Hospital here. Her sister, Christine Carwithen, served as driver with the Hawaii Chapter U.S. Red Cross, and their brother, Pte. M. B. Carwithen, is now on one of the battlefronts.

Merriman Round-up...

RADIO SOAP operas which wring the hearts of housewives nearly every afternoon will have competition if the resolution of Senator Claude Pepper gains support. C. R. Blackburn, reports from Washington. Pepper wants the debates of both Houses of Congress broadcast as a step to "pure democracy" but base gallery reporters comment that the soap operas needn't worry. Blackburn also tells about the most unnecessary job in the world. It was assigned to 40 men and women of the democratic national convention and they had to officially inform President Roosevelt that he won the nomination last July. They waited for weeks seeking an opportunity to go to the White House to tell Roosevelt what he and the whole world knew almost the moment it happened.

THE IMPRESSION that liquor shortage in Canada was through lack of manpower and material diverted to other purposes totters with reports from Ottawa correspondents that there are 35,000,000 gallons of spirits in bond. Charles Bishop says the government's intention is to keep the supplies limited to the present standard because it does not want citizens spending their money too freely. It will flow as it used to as soon as the war is over, he predicts. Even the fortune-tellers are using that silly table of figures purporting to show the war will end September 7, 1944 (Thursday at 2 o'clock). Others, more practical, point out you could take any set of names and use figures in the same way to predict anything you care to. But not to prove anything. A girl at the Parliament Buildings is wrathful over coffee counter cigarette smokers. With others waiting, she says, they sit leisurely at the counter puffing away. "It is annoying enough to have to eat in the cloud of smoke but when you have to wait so long your lunch hour is all shot, that's terrible," she says.

Store Protection For V-Day Planned

VANCOUVER (CP) — Anticipating hectic celebrations on V-day when Germany throws in the sponge, the Vancouver Retail Merchants' Association Tuesday presented to Mayor J. W. Cornett its tentative plans to protect merchandise in store windows from merry-makers.

The association suggests valuable be removed from windows and barricades be then erected to protect merchants from acquisitive celebrators.

It was suggested stores close as quickly as possible after receipt of the new. If the news were received before noon, stores would close for the balance of the day. After noon they would close for the remainder of the day and for the next day. In the event of an evening break, stores would not open the following day.

Youth Not Overly Optimistic Of Chances of Lasting Peace

(Editor's Note—This is the second of three articles reporting results of special studies as to the opinion of young people in Canada on various issues. The studies were made possible through the co-operation of institute member newspapers, and the Canadian Youth Commission.)

By CANADIAN INSTITUTE OF PUBLIC OPINION

TORONTO — Whether it be good or bad, the fact seems to be that the youth of today will not fall easily into the rosy "war-to-end-war" optimism which swept the civilized world after the first Great War.

The grim fact is that nearly half the young people in Canada, between the ages of 15 and 24, believe that the present war will not be the last world war, and that there will be another one within about 25 years.

As part of a special series of studies on opinion of young Canadians carried out in co-operation with the Canadian Youth Commission, the Gallup Poll, applying its sampling technique to Canadians in the 15 to 24 age group (excluding armed services) asked:

"Do you feel that the present war will be the last world war, or do think there is likely to be another world war in the next 25 years?"

Reduced to percentages, opinion of youth divides as follows: Expect another war, 46%; last world war, 21%; undecided, 24%; qualified, 9%.

The view that this is not the war to end wars is not concentrated in any particular faction or section of the country, but is fairly evenly spread across all provinces, and across all economic boundaries. There is a slightly greater tendency, the institute finds, for college students or graduates to expect another war than for young people of lesser educational ranking, but the difference is only slight.

How does this frame of mind affect young Canada's attitude towards such matters as postwar compulsory military training? The answer is that, today, slightly more than half the young men support the idea of a compulsory, one-year military course for every able-bodied male. Young women are not so sure they would support it.

The issue was worded like this:

"After the war is over, do you think every able-bodied young man should be required to serve one year in the army, navy, or air force?" Yes, 46%; No, 40%; undecided, 14%.

If the answers are divided on the basis of sex, comparison is as follows:

	Men	Women
Yes	52%	42%
No	36%	47%
Undecided	12%	11%

A year ago last March, when victory for the Allies was not as certain or as seemingly close, as it is today, the same question was put by the Gallup Poll to adults. Because of the changed conditions prevailing, a comparison of the adult survey with the current youth survey is apt to be misleading, but for the record, in March, 1943, the Gallup Poll found a majority (56%) of voting-age Canadians who favored a one-year course of training for able-bodied young men.

It may surprise some observers to find that the young people of Quebec are about as much in favor of compulsory military training after the war as are their fellow Canadians elsewhere. The same was true of the adult survey.

(As young Canadians flock back to school, colleges and universities, what do they feel about their educational opportunities? Do those in school and out of school feel that our schools are doing a good or bad job—or just fair? Do they think an education is too hard to get? These are some of the issues discussed in next Saturday's Gallup Poll.)

Iron Lung Appendectomy Apparently Successful

SEATTLE (AP)—An apparently successful appendectomy was performed on a woman in an "iron lung" Tuesday in the King County Hospital.

The operation on Mrs. Theda Anna Carl, 24-year-old mother of two boys, was described by hospital executives as rare in medical annals.

She was stricken with acute appendicitis Tuesday morning, attendants reported. In the iron lung that had encased her since infantile paralysis struck her Aug. 4.

The operation is the second hazard to confront the truck driver's wife since she entered the hospital. Once previously a power failure stopped the mechanical breathing aid, but alert attendants quickly started working an emergency hand pump until power was restored.

Port Busy Again

PORT ARTHUR, Ont. (CP)—Approximately 100 freight handlers of the Steamship Forwarding Company here ended a two-day walkout and returned to their jobs today. Decision to break the strike was reached at a general mass meeting of the men Tuesday night.

The men did not disclose the reason for the walkout Monday morning. It was stated unofficially they left their jobs because a foreman had been swearing at them.

Poles Hail Liberators

By I. KONSTANTINOVSKY
MOSCOW (Via Press Wire)—Soviet troops are advancing westward over Poland's roads. Villages with spired churches and stone statue saints at road crossings little resemble villages which we have hitherto passed. But why does everything around us seem so familiar? Why do our men so easily understand people whom they see for the first time? The explanation is simple: Here, too, Germans held sway. And Germans in Polish villages on the Vistula behaved in the same way as those who aspired to become landowners on the banks of the Dnieper. Hitler has done his utmost to incite one nation against another, to infuse Europe with hatred of the peoples of the Soviet Union. Now the Red Army has crossed the frontier and Polish women embrace Russian soldiers as if they were their own sons. Russians, Ukrainians, Armenians and Kazakhs kiss little fair-haired Juseks and Janeks as if they were their own children.

NAZI BARBARITY

The Germans held sway in Poland for five years. Many methods of the "new order" were first applied in Poland. Frankly the "governor" openly explained his recipe: To kill national self-consciousness of the people and destroy its intelligentsia. And that's what he has been doing. I have already listed in my notebook the names of 180 Polish professors and teachers killed by the Germans. In the "first days" of our arrival in Poland I sought in vain for any teachers in villages. In the village of Knoty I was told "We had nine teachers, but they were all arrested by the Gestapo at different times. We don't know what has happened to them." In another village five teachers disappeared in the same manner.

It was with much difficulty I at last found one teacher, Kazimierz Tomaszewski. The Germans had employed him as an official of the tax commission to help them pump products from the population. In school he was obliged to teach "the usefulness of taxes." Other subjects taught in the schools were arithmetic and penmanship. History and geography were forbidden. It was bad for the Poles to know peoples have their history and that there are many other countries in the world besides Germany.

TOOK PRIEST AWAY

In the same village of Knoty I inquired about the priest. I was told the priest, Kazimierz Czekalski, had been taken along by the Germans as hostage.

After Soviet troops had entered the Polish town of Przeworsk, west of the San River, the inhabitants began to sleep nights in their homes. Under the Germans they had stayed overnight in fields and gardens, in specially dug holes, because at night the Germans went around collecting "quotas"—grain, milk, chickens, wool, eggs and other produce.

There were also quotas for people. Seventy-five persons were supposed to be deported from Przeworsk to Germany, but the Germans only managed to deport 20. The rest fled to the woods. In round-ups Germans killed five persons.

BRING FREEDOM

Liberators! Our men have been accustomed to be called that in liberated Soviet regions. Now they hear the same word many miles from state borders of the Soviet Union.

"Since Poland was invaded by the Germans," I was told by Jan Krawiec, a former officer in the Polish army, "we heard promises of liberation from various sides, but liberation has come from Moscow. It is being brought us by the Red Army. And Poland will never forget this."

TAX DEADLINE

AFTER THE ELATION OF THE LAST week over the war news from France, many of us may be brought down to earth here at home by having our attention directed to the fact that tomorrow is the last day for paying the balance due on 1943 income taxes.

For most persons affected, this payment will be heavy as the weekly or monthly deductions on last year's salary or wage cheques were on a lower percentage than obtains on the current year's income. Under the deductions in force now, the taxpayer is nearly fully paid up as he earns. Heavy though the payment now due may be, most taxpayers will feel it a matter of satisfaction that it is the last of the large block payments they will face. From now on it will be pay-as-you-earn, a system of collection which is proving less painful.

However, the fact to be borne in mind is that tomorrow, Aug. 31, is the absolute deadline on what is still owing from last year. After tomorrow all the heavy penalties and interest charges of which the tax forms warn will be levied against those who have not paid up.

Originally, this heavy payment was due last spring. It was postponed, however, until Aug. 31 because it clashed with the Victory Loan campaign then under way. For all with foresight, it should be easier to meet it now than it would have been four months ago.

WAYS COULD BE FOUND

SURELY THE UNITED NATIONS ARE powerful enough to persuade neutral states to refuse asylum to Hitler and his colleagues. The subject is far from an academic one; the Fuehrer and his henchmen at long last are under no delusion about the outcome. They know what is in store for them if they are apprehended. Their thoughts naturally turn to the feasibility of flight. Officials in Washington, however, favor a new "appeal" to nonbelligerent countries to refuse these murderers sanctuary. They recall that it is now about a year since the State Department instructed its diplomatic representatives in Stockholm, Ankara, Madrid, Lisbon, Bern, Vatican City and Buenos Aires to call attention of the neutral governments to a statement by President Roosevelt urging against asylum for "Axis leaders or their tools."

What the ordinary people of the United Nations expect of the Allied governments is a definite intimation to all neutral states that if the leading gangsters whom Mr. Churchill, Mr. Roosevelt and Marshal Stalin already have marked down for punishment befitting their crimes are harbored in such countries, suitable action will be taken to compel their deliverance to justice. Latest reports from Switzerland suggest that the Swiss Federal Council has anticipated some such procedure by forbidding entrance to Swiss soil to refugees who "because of reprovable deeds appear to have made themselves unworthy of being given asylum." Comments in her newspapers indicate that Sweden contemplates a similar move.

Argentina's truculence and her government's disregard for Latin-American solidarity may offer hope to Hitler and his gang. The Fuehrer no doubt is watching the differences of opinion between Great Britain and the United States in respect of policy toward this South American republic. They are differences which include Argentine meat supplies and Allied investments. The latter, of course, is a sensitive point.

The late ex-Kaiser escaped the punishment which the Allied and Associated Powers designed for him because the Dutch government refused to hand him over. In all the circumstances, however, this was not surprising. But Hitler's case furnishes no parallel. Nothing short of self-destruction or his "removal" by German hands should be allowed to stand in the way of his apprehension—all the diplomatic proprieties regarding neutral states notwithstanding.

IS HE NOT READY YET?

NEW BRUNSWICK'S LIBERALS "ARE to be congratulated on holding one province for their party," said National Progressive Conservative leader John Bracken, on his arrival in Edmonton yesterday from the Peace River district. But he had hoped that his provincial friends "would have increased their representation in the Legislature," which they failed to do.

Ever since Mr. Bracken was elected to his present post at the Winnipeg convention in December, 1942, he has been touring and retouring the country; making dozens of speeches, familiarizing himself with the Canadian scene, promising almost everything short of the sun and the moon and the stars—he must leave something for the C.C.F.—and still the people do not seem to take him or his renamed party with a large amount of seriousness.

It is not within our province, of course, to give Mr. Bracken advice. If it were, we should suggest he spurn the temptation to try to become a humorist. His congratulations to the Liberals of New Brunswick, for instance, might be a trifle funny if he could point to more than one province of the Dominion where a Conservative regime is enjoying the influence and emoluments of office, or if he saw any hope of Progressive Conservatives forming a second government anywhere in Canada. Ontario is the party's "lone star state." And Mr. Drew credits no one but Mr. Drew with having changed administrations in that province.

In the meantime, however, Mr. Bracken says his party is "taking the necessary steps to be ready for a 'snap' Dominion general election should the government decide to call one." What does he mean by a "snap" election? Or is the Progressive Conservative leader so politically confused that he has become a slave to the habit of speech without thought? He knows that Mr. King intends to appeal to the people for new instructions before next April 17; he should know that Mr. King is almost certain to await further developments in Europe before committing himself; and he might, with reason, argue that Mr. King is not likely to launch a political campaign until after the next Victory Loan has been subscribed. This would take us up to somewhere near mid-November.

But supposing the Prime Minister called for a dissolution of Parliament tomorrow, or any time in the next three or four months, for that matter, would Mr. Bracken consider it a "snap" election? Surely he is not serious when he uses the term. And if he is not now ready to submit his case to the people, after an intensive organization campaign covering more than 20 months, when in the name of all political argument does he expect to be?

THAT FAMILIAR REFRAIN

WHEN NAZI SPOKESMAN GENERAL Kurt Dittmar began to admit the inevitability of an Allied victory, the Herr Doktor Goebbels and lesser lights of the propaganda ministry were compelled to revise their technique. It took them a little time to adjust themselves; years of fantastic cocksureness had left them no signposts for an easy way back to stern realities. It was a clumsy journey. With Dittmar's authentic disquisitions as a pattern, however, they took heart and improved.

How they improved is best learned through broadcast quotations from the publication "Berlin-Rome-Tokyo" through which Goebbelsian writers are speculating on peace terms—and the possibility of another war of revenge. The frank confession is not new; but the thought behind it is a familiar one. Published quotations show one particular article as foreseeing a certain renewal of hostilities if "participation in free access to the world's raw materials," which it calls the fundamental safeguard of peace, is not assured. Waved aside, however, is the question of harsh or mild peace terms as war-breeds, but adequate emphasis is reserved for "conflicting political issues." These, it develops, are the over-played bogeyman of a "Bolshevized Europe."

"It is absurd to believe that Europe, which proved unable to bear Napoleon's domination and which denied Germany's claim to leadership, will bend its knee to Moscow for any length of time," says the Nazi writer as he predicts failure of a "United States-Russia world police force" and a clash of Soviet and American power in the "so-called Chinese sphere of interest." In other words, propaganda is building up the same old case for itself that it has used in the last decade. Plain is the hint that remnants of the Nazi Party will again weep over lack of "Lebensraum" and cry for the stolen colonies. So long as these remnants are alive and articulate they will try to create discord among the "Big Four" of the United Nations.

The article's emphasis on "a United States-Russia world police force, containing also a few Englishmen and Chinese," is a childish-obvious attempt to turn Britain against the neighboring Republic—while playing upon Britain's real or fancied fear of a Soviet-dominated Europe—and to frighten China with the same two countries' "imperialistic" intentions. The Nazi effort to win British sympathy while robot bombs unite the British public in favor of strongest reprisals against Germany is downright stupid. In fact, the whole, clever, insidious enemy propaganda machine has been looking ridiculous for some time.

REMINDER

THAT BACK-TO-SCHOOL DRIVE IS again being conducted among 'teen-agers in various parts of the country. With schools reopening next week a reminder along the same lines may be in order here.

A large proportion of 14 to 18-year-old boys and girls, here as elsewhere, have during the summer months been engaged in full or part-time employment. Influenced by the money they are earning, often substantial amounts under war scales, many are hesitating about going back to school or college.

Parents and others who have at heart the future of such young people should exert themselves now to see that they return to school to complete their training. Youths who stay out of school for a year intending to go back will find it more difficult to do so at the end of that time. Most of them, with their school associations broken, would never go back. This for them would mean the passing of opportunity to gain a degree of education that will fit them better for more responsible and more remunerative positions in after life.

On parents and young people alike the fact cannot be too strongly impressed that in the increased competition in the post-war years general education as well as specialized training will count more and more. On them will depend our industrial, scientific and social progress, as well as the welfare of the individual and his opportunities.

Loose Ends

THE SUIT OF THE MONTH

A MAN HAS sued an author and publisher on the ground that a book was not as represented. He wins the Suit-of-the-Month Club award hands down.

The plaintiff is Lewis R. Linet, a lawyer, a book reader and a man who wants everything the label calls for.

He sued Arthur Train, Scribner's, and the editor of Scribner's on the claim that Mr. Train's last book is not all it is purported to be. If this suit got encouragement, there would be thousands of authors in hurried conferences with their attorneys.

The courts may think they have been busy, but they haven't seen anything yet. If all the book readers who don't think they got their money's worth get their day in court there won't be a dozen authors in the country unentangled in legal proceedings.

The plaintiff in this case said Mr. Train's book was represented as being an autobiography of a real person, when it is fictional. His contention was that there is no difference between a book, a bottle of horse liniment or a dozen eggs when it comes to misrepresentation.

True, perhaps, but you can tell earlier about the eggs, and they are not $3.50 per egg yet.

Mr. Linet, sued for himself and 55,000 other book buyers, he said, and he asked refund of from 50 cents to a dollar per copy. The book is a $3.50 one. We are with the plaintiff in our touchiness about $3.50 publications. When a book costs that much money a customer should get some meat, butter and gasoline with it.

It will be noted in this litigation that while the author, publishing house and publishing house editor are sued, the publicity manager is not. (He is doing okay.—Ed. Note.)

Book circles have been agog. There were rumors today that Betty Smith had been sued by a customer who claimed he thought "A Tree Grows in Brooklyn" was a publication on landscape gardening.

Elmer Twitcheell is suing Somerset Maugham on the ground he bought "Razor's Edge" as a treatise on shaving, and Imadodo is seeing her lawyer about proceeding against Mr. Marquand for his book, "So Little Time." The sales lady sold it to her as a technical book about grandfather clocks.

We await the transcript of a court proceeding:

Q.—You are the author of the book in question?

A.—Guilty as charged.

Q.—Are you familiar with the allegations in this suit against you?

A.—No, but I'm familiar with the sales jumps since the action was filed and I wish to thank everybody concerned.

Q.—Did you have any help on this book?

A.—Not much, until the plaintiff sued me.

Q.—Do you know the plaintiff?

A.—No, but I have developed a great regard for him.

A.—Are you willing to give him his money back?

A.—Not only that, but I will put him on the payroll.

VERDICT

Judge.—The decision of the court is that this suit should never have been brought.

Author.—So you're unfair to authors, eh?

VICTORIA SEALERS WENT THERE

By Captain Nelson Macdonald

The Bonin Islands, a fortified naval outpost of the Empire of Japan, now a target for Yankee bombers, were used by Victoria schooners during fur-sealing days as a port of call to secure fresh water and refit after the annual Pacific crossing in search of seals off the Japanese and Siberian coasts.

The schooners after taking departure from Victoria in January of each year, sailed to the latitude of Hawaii where they met the trade winds. Sailing 3,000 miles westward before their steady pressure, the schooners then hauled up on a course for Yokohama. Many of them, however, called at the Bonins en route. In the harbors of memory, the port of the Bonins holds a treasured place, a beautiful land-locked, deep water harbor, encircled by palm-tree covered hills, the fronds of which wave a trade-wind welcome as your ship sails by the headlands.

The low houses of the settlement nestled at the base of a cathedral hill are hidden from the anchorage by a shoreline fringe of semi-tropical trees. However, after emerging from their shade you contact a little town laid out like a checker-board with streets paved in white and pink coral.

The population is 90 per cent Japanese. There are, however, a considerable number of Kanakas. In bygone days the Yankee whaling fleet also visited the Bonins. Consequently, there is a generous amount of down-east Yankee blood in the veins of many of these handsome Kanaka people.

THE PEACEMAKERS

Benjamin Franklin, in a letter to John Adams, dated Passy, Oct. 12, 1781, reproduced in the New York Times.

"I have never known a peace made, even the most advantageous, that was not censured as inadequate, and the makers condemned as injudicious or corrupt. 'Blessed are the peacemakers,' is, I suppose, to be understood in the other world; for in this they are frequently cursed. Being as yet rather too much attached to this world, I had therefore no ambition to be concerned in fabricating this peace, and know not how I came to be put into the commission. I esteem it, however, as an honor to be joined with you in so important a business; and, if the execution of it shall happen in my time, which I hardly expect, I shall endeavor to assist in discharging the duty according to the best of my judgment."

News Analysis— The War Today

By DEWITT MACKENZIE
Associated Press War Analyst

The speed with which the Allied mechanized forces are advancing and cutting the Germans to pieces in France, in a warfare of amazing fluidity, is impressing observers with the possibility that the retreating Nazis may arrive on their own frontiers in such a disorganized state as to precipitate chaos within the Reich itself.

This idea fits with the fear among leaders in Washington that Hitler and his captains may find refuge in neutral countries. It's a year since the Allies asked neutrals not to give sanctuary to these war criminals, and the subject may be raised with them again now.

UNPRECEDENTED SCENES

Should Hitler and the other Nazi leaders flee in the face of military disaster, it would create an unprecedented situation. The vast German public would have little organization and no head, for the dictator and his personally-appointed aides are the sole government over a people who are so utterly regimented that they have no will of their own.

Just suppose that on top of this the disorganized armies should retreat into Germany and carry on the fight in separate units under fanatical Nazi officers—and that's envisaged by some observers. You'd have a fine keg of kraut. There would be no armistice day, but the Allied forces would have to go in and clean a mighty dirty house.

The above isn't a prediction. It's a possibility.

EYES ON SOMME

The fluidity of the present fighting in France as exemplified by the unpredictable Patton, who encircles 'em so fast that he catches up with himself, renders the future of any army in retreat most uncertain and precarious. Thus, for example, while we know the Germans normally would make a stand on the Somme River in the northern tip of France, there's no assurance now they will be able to reorganize on that line in view of the Allied drive which has taken U.S. advance guards to within less than two score miles of Belgium.

It's possible that when the Germans near their own frontiers we shall see a reversion to static defence in the great Siegfried Line or the Maginot Line, or both, if the Germans can maintain their organization. There may be a similar stand behind the Oder against the Russians. Then we shall see whether the Fuehrer can defend himself against being flanked. Anyway, the lines will be taken.

THIS WAR—FOUR YEARS AGO

CAMPBELL—KOZAK

The marriage took place Monday evening at First United Church of Sally Anne, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. P. B. Kozak, Winnipeg, and David Leslie Campbell, Winnipeg. Rev. H. A. McLeod performed the ceremony. The bride is the second daughter to wear her mother's wedding gown of white lace over satin, styled with a full skirt, bracelet-length sleeves and an inset lace yoke with high neckline. A full-length embroidered veil fell from a Queen Ann headdress and she carried an old-fashioned bouquet of Talisman roses, gladioli and carnations showered with white heather. The bride's only jewelry was a gold locket. The bridesmaid chose a full skirted frock of pink sheer with an opal pendant and carried pink carnations. John M. Moore, C.D.C., supported the groom. A reception was held at the home of A. W. Wait, R.C.N.V.R., and Mrs. Wait, 313 Montreal Street, after which Mr. and Mrs. Campbell left for a honeymoon in Vancouver. The bride wore a mauve dressmaker suit, white accessories and a corsage bouquet of Talisman roses for going away.

McPHERSON—GRUBB

First United Church was the scene of a wedding Tuesday when Doris Joyce, youngest daughter of Mrs. Grubb, 1323 Harrison Street, and the late Mr. Robert Grubb, became the bride of Dr. Thomas McPherson, eldest son of the late Mr. and Mrs. A. J. McPherson, Stratford, Ont. Rev. W. G. Wilson, D.D., officiated. The organist played the wedding music.

Given in marriage by her brother, Mr. R. N. Grubb, the bride wore a powder blue afternoon frock with a rose centre panel. Her hat, veil and shoes were dark blue and she carried a bouquet of pink rosebuds, stephanotis and heather.

Miss Peggy Mercer, Vancouver, was her aunt's bridesmaid and wore a rose frock with navy accessories. She carried a bouquet of rose-pink carnations, blue cornflowers and maiden hair fern. Dr. M. J. Keys was the best man and Dr. P. A. C. Cousland and Dr. J. W. Lennox were the ushers. A wedding reception was held at the home of the bride's mother for a few close friends and relatives. Mrs. R. Hoyle and Mrs. A. G. Mercer, sisters of the bride, assisted in receiving. Dr. Wilson gave the toast to the bride.

On the return from their honeymoon spent in Ottawa and eastern Canada Dr. and Mrs. McPherson will reside at 956 Esquimalt Road. Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Grubb, brother and sister-in-law of the bride, were guests from Seattle.

List Priorities On Postwar Plans

Saanich council Tuesday night compiled a list of priorities of postwar projects to be submitted to Hon. H. G. T. Perry, chairman of the Bureau of Postwar Rehabilitation and Reconstruction.

First were waterworks, followed by sewerage projects, roads and bridges, street lighting, a municipal hall, a fire hall and improvement to the home for the aged and infirm.

Tentative plans for parks and playgrounds were also added to the list.

Councillor Robert Noble said he felt Saanich had much to offer returned soldiers, and said veterans would make good citizens of the municipality.

It was suggested setting aside of land for low rental-purchase by veterans should be discussed by the council. Setting aside of properties for such purposes would be difficult owing to scattered properties, it was argued.

St. Martin's-in-the-Field was granted a dollar-a-year lease on each of four lots to be used by the church for playground purposes.

Discussing a petition from residents on Dyar Road and Arnot Street, complaining of the state of the roads for walking purposes, and asking for construction of sidewalks, the council determined to tell the petitioners it did not wish to make temporary repairs to the roads, but would consider a petition for permanent sidewalks.

The council decided to ask the B.C. Electric Railway to maintain a narrow road where an unused track runs. There was no place for cars to pull out in the face of oncoming traffic, the council said, and drafted a request that the company keep the track and a portion two feet on either side in good shape.

The council acknowledged receipt of a cheque for $164.87, and received the information that the federal government had extended war risk insurance for one year free of charge.

Approval was given to the application of Miss K. Cumerford for a position as nurse on the health department staff.

Bamboo in the Far East has many uses, extending from house frames to picture frames, and from irrigation and drainage pipes to walking sticks, bean poles, ash trays, waste baskets, beds, and all types of furniture.

Canadian Club Officers Tour B.C.

George H. Gowan, chairman, and F. J. Staghall, honorary secretary-treasurer, of the Regional Council of Canadian Clubs for B.C., left Victoria today for a day, for a tour of nine Canadian Clubs in the interior of the province.

Mr. Gowan and Mr. Staghall were elected to their present offices for two years at the Regional Council convention, held in Vancouver in June.

Vernon, Kelowna, Penticton, Trail, Rossland, Nelson, Revelstoke, Kamloops and Chilliwack will be the cities visited. Purpose of the tour is to enable the council officers to get acquainted with members of the various clubs.

Mr. Gowan and Mr. Staghall are vitally interested in the development of Junior Canadian Clubs among high school students. One of the most flourishing is the Courtenay-Cornox Junior Club. Membership comprises students from three schools. Another successful junior club at Vernon, will be visited during the tour.

PUBLISHERS AT FIRST FAILED TO ACCEPT JANE AUSTEN'S BOOKS

Jane Austen felt sorry because she could not get her first book published, but she did not give up hope. Soon she wrote another novel, "Sense and Sensibility," but once more she failed to find a publisher.

Many a person would have stopped writing at that point, but there was an urge in Miss Austen to make her go ahead. Much of her time she spent helping her sister take care of her father's household, but she found moments in which she could write. While sewing or preparing meals, she would have an idea and would go to a table and write down a paragraph or two for her next novel.

In 1798, shortly before her twenty-third birthday, Jane finished a new novel, "Northanger Abbey." The manuscript was sold to a London firm called Crossdale and Co. for a sum equal to about $50.

Happy was the young author for a time, but the volume was not published. The company locked the manuscript away in a safe, and kept it there for years.

Thus three great English novels "went begging" for a publisher. Years passed, and the Rev. Austen died. Keeping house together were the mother and her two daughters. Now and then they received letters from the sons in the family, but these sons were making their living elsewhere, two of them being in the British navy.

In 1811, the novel "Sense and Sensibility" went again to a publisher, and this time it appeared in print. Two years later, "Pride and Prejudice" was published. This was Jane's first novel, but she had changed it somewhat. It is the most famous, though perhaps not the best, of all she wrote.

Soon afterward, "Emma" and "Mansfield Park" were published. In not a single one of her novels did the name of Jane Austen appear as the author, while she was alive. The books were read by many persons, but only Jane's friends and relatives knew that she had written them.

Jane Austen died before her forty-second birthday. Two of her novels, including "Northanger Abbey," were published after her death. The humor in her books and her fine style of writing have given her a rank among the great authors of history.

NATURE DECIDED WOMEN'S LOT

A great many people are agitating themselves over what women are going to do after the war. It is a grand subject for a summer debate because the subject is just about as hot as the weather, and nobody's argument is hampered by any facts and figures. All is pure surmise and one person's guess is just as good as another's.

Women, themselves, can throw no light on the problem because they don't know what they can do, or what they will have to do, or even what they want to do after they take off their coveralls and put on their skirts again.

There are as many schools of thought about the matter as there are individuals. There are those who assert that women will have had enough of understudying men and they will gladly rush back into what used to be called their "sacred sphere" where they can put perfume behind their ears instead of having machine grease on their hands.

Others contend that, having tasted blood in the shape of financial independence, they will never go back to wheeling cartage out of their husbands.

Realists assert that after the duration that there will not be enough jobs to go around, and men will grab all of the good ones, and that mom will have to return to her cooking stove and washing machine whether she hankers for them or not.

While the starry-eyed dreamers foresee a brave new world in which democracy will be extended to even take in wives.

Willows Racing Meet Will Go On—McLennan

Victoria's 14 days of racing at the Willows track, Sept. 9 to 25 will go on as scheduled, according to a statement issued today by A. L. McLennan, Vancouver, one of the directors of the Colwood Park Association Ltd.

Some concern over the fate of the local meeting was expressed yesterday when a shortage of horses hit the current meeting at Hastings Park with the result the officials were unable to fill today's card until late in the afternoon.

"I don't anticipate any trouble in staging the meet at Victoria," said McLennan over the long-distance telephone. "The situation yesterday at Hastings Park was just a case of the horsemen waiting around and holding up their entries with the hope something more suited would be hung up. There are already enough stall reservations for the Willows to enable us to put on a first-class meeting."

At the start of the season slightly over 300 head were stabled at Vancouver but in recent days this number has been decreased as owners shipped to the races at Spokane, while others sent their thoroughbreds to the prairies. This has been offset somewhat by arrival of a few horses from Calgary.

Browns Four Games Up; Detroit Second

There was a suspicion today that the St. Louis tailspin was over as the Browns went into the final test of their last long road trip with a four-game lead.

Adding to Luke Sewell's peace of mind was the second place situation which had seen Boston, New York and Detroit in the runner-up spot in the last three days. The three contenders were having a tough time trying to decide which one was going to bear down on the Browns, who have been staggering along the road losing 12 of 21 away games since Aug. 6.

Detroit appeared to present the main problem at the moment as Steve O'Neill had his Tigers in second place, two points ahead of Boston, and was scheduled to take on St. Louis in a crucial series in the Browns' back yard this week-end.

The Tigers took over the runner-up spot Tuesday as Paul (Dizzy) Trout shut out Chicago 7 to 0, while Boston and New York split. Trout ran his string of scoreless innings to 19, hung up his 22nd win and eighth straight and hogged the headlines by smashing his fifth homer with one on and adding a double and single to drive in five runs.

Boston and New York each popped up with a rookie find who proved he could win at least once in the big show. The Red Sox showed Clem Dreisewerd from Sacramento, who stopped the Yanks with six hits to win 8 to 1, and Joe McCarthy countered with Floyd Revens from Newark who turned the tables, 11 to 2, for an even break.

Bobo Newsom and Jesse Flores hurled Philadelphia to a double-barreled triumph over Washington, 3 to 1, and 11 to 4, recapturing fifth place and making it eight out of 10 in the win column for the A's.

St. Louis rolled up an 8 to 3 night-game margin on Cleveland with Denny Galehouse recovering from his recent losing troubles to grab his sixth over Specs Kileman.

The Cardinals continued to gun for the Chicago Cubs' record by notching victory No. 91 at Cincinnati's expense, 3 to 0. Ted Wilks upped his win record to 14 to 1, boasting the longest

Toronto Appears Playoff Cinch In International

TORONTO (CP)—It took the Newark Bears almost two months to complete their sensational climb from the cellar of the International League to first place; but when they reached the top rung, they promptly dropped a four-game series to the Baltimore Orioles, allowing the Marylanders to regain leadership.

The Orioles, recovered from a disastrous trip through the northern end of the circuit, now hold a three-game margin over the Yankee farmhands. The third-place Buffalo Bisons have clinched a playoff berth, while the Toronto Maple Leafs' margin of four games over the Jersey City Giants should be sufficient as the league swings into its final two weeks of play.

Toronto fans are still puzzled as to the factor behind the Leafs' surprising climb into the playoff picture. The Leafs put together a group of has-beens to enter the playoff scene.

With three regular outfielders on the sidelines, they signed 43-year-old John Cooney released from the New York Yankees, enticed 38-year-old Chet Morgan away from his farm and converted a New York sandlot pick-up into an outfielder. They switched their second-sacker and third-baseman and used their 38-year-old coach, Red Kress, to sub in all positions.

Their average pitchers transformed into a first-rate mound corps overnight and when the smoke had cleared they had hung up 16 victories in 20 games and the Leafs were solidly entrenched in fourth place.

The occupants of the second division—Jersey City, Montreal Royals, Rochester Red Wings and Syracuse Chiefs—failed to gain any ground in a week of limited activity and, with the exception of the Jerseyites who have a mathematical chance, the quartette seems to have dropped from contention.

Los Angeles Angels maintained their virtual stranglehold on the Coast League leadership last night as Claude Horton tossed Oakland's Damon Hayes in a tight 10-inning pitching duel for a 3 to 2 win.

The Oaks had taken a two-run lead when the Angels tied up the count in the eighth inning and forced the tilt into overtime. Hayes loosened in the first of the 15th to walk Ted Norbert who was forced at second by Ed Sauer. Reggie Otero walked, Tony York singled and Ed Fernandez brought in Sauer with another single.

The Portland Beavers held second position, 10½ games behind the Angels, with an easy 7 to 2 win over San Diego's bottom rung Padres.

San Francisco pushed Hollywood out of third with a 10 inning, 7 to 6 win off an unearned tally.

Seattle and Sacramento wrangled to an 8 to 5 Rainier win that saw Sacramento's manager Earl Shelly and pitcher Larry Kempe ordered out of the park when they protested too volubly against an umpire's decision in the second inning.

Dr. Appleby Heads B.C. Racing Breeders

VANCOUVER (CP)—Dr. Lyon H. Appleby was re-elected president of the B.C. Racing Breeders' Association for his sixth successive term, when the association met Tuesday.

Ed Furgol Captures Tam o' Shanter Golf

CHICAGO (AP)—Ed Furgol, 24-year-old Birmingham, Mich., public links player, won the all-American amateur golf championship Tuesday at Tam o' Shanter, shooting a 73, one over 17, to defeat Earl Christiansen, Miami, Fla., policeman, and Ken Heilemann, St. Louis chemist, in an 18-hole playoff after they had tied at 285 in the regulation 72-hole test.

Furgol's 73 put him three strokes ahead of Christiansen, and six up on Heilemann, the policeman manufacturing a 76 and Heilemann a 79.

Furgol thus succeeds Dale Morey of Indianapolis, Ind., the 1943 winner, who withdrew after the third round this year.

Services Sport Order Alters Picture

By SYD THOMAS
TORONTO (CP)—Repercussions of the new services sport order are being noticed in numerous centres, making the Athletic picture for the coming months just that much more indefinite.

When servicemen were barred from playing with or against civilians in anything except garrison leagues or exhibition games, it upset the appraisals of numerous teams which were banking heavily on the aid of unformed talent.

One case in point is the Winnipeg Blue Bombers football organization, which was forced to close up shop when they lost their athletes in the service. That's a blow to the Winnipeggers, but it can't be helped. Then on the Pacific coast, hockey prospects are said to be quite dull for the coming winter, due mainly to player scarcity among the civilian population.

The one good feature about the whole thing, though, is the added freedom given the services for games within their own bounds. In most centres, good leagues can be formed with service talent available, and they'd provide good competition, that should be crowd-appealing.

The Services want to encourage sport among the sailors, soldiers and airmen—and the fans want all the sport they can get—so there shouldn't be too much trouble making everybody happy if the thing is gone about properly.

One thing everyone seems well agreed upon in the current N.H.L. president-candidate guessing match, and that is that the amount of freedom, or lack of it, given the successful job-seeker will play an important part in the decision.

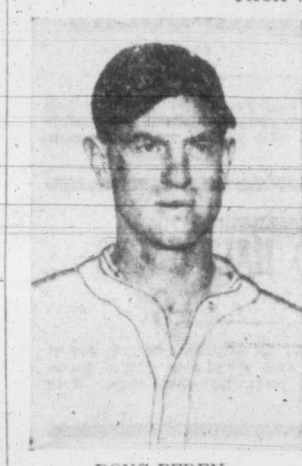

It has always been said that the man at the helm had to be too much of a figure-head for the board of governors and others with their fingers in the league pie. That also has been given one reason why the loquacious Red Dutton chafed under the collar and finally left the ship—because he wasn't given a free hand in the job.

If the league heads really want to do the best possible thing for the future of hockey, they would be well advised to select someone with power to wield the big stick—like Judge Landis does in baseball, and let him have some scope for free expression. Otherwise, there is apt to be too little of a constructive nature coming from the president's office to satisfy any ambitious hockey-lover who succeeds to the mantle of Frank Calder temporarily borrowed by Dutton.

In Action Tonight

JACK WALKER

DOUG PEDEN

LLOYD CANN

With the city baseball championship at stake, Navy and Army clubs battle at the Athletic Park tonight in the opening game of a best of seven series, starting at 6. Walker, leading hitter during the regular league schedule, will be at his usual spot in right field for the Navy. Peden will be holding down first base for the Army, while Lloyd Cann is one of the possible pitching choices for the troops. Bitter rivals all season the two service clubs are expected to provide an interesting series before the new holders of the Rutherford trophy are determined.

Ed Furgol Captures Tam o' Shanter Golf

CHICAGO (AP)—Ed Furgol, 24-year-old Birmingham, Mich., public links player, won the all-American amateur golf championship Tuesday at Tam o' Shanter, shooting a 73, one over 17, to defeat Earl Christiansen, Miami, Fla., policeman, and Ken Heilemann, St. Louis chemist, in an 18-hole playoff after they had tied at 285 in the regulation 72-hole test.

Furgol's 73 put him three strokes ahead of Christiansen, and six up on Heilemann, the policeman manufacturing a 76 and Heilemann a 79.

Furgol thus succeeds Dale Morey of Indianapolis, Ind., the 1943 winner, who withdrew after the third round this year.

UNDERDOGS BEFRIENDED
A word of sympathy for the sometimes-maligned baseline coaches of baseball comes from Hal Cole of the Guelph Mercury. Pointing out that quite often dodgesque base plays are the fault of the runner, and not the coach, Cole adds darkly that "after all a baseline coach isn't allowed to lay hands on the runners." It's probably lucky that, or there might be mayhem right on the field.

Pro Hockey Stars Face Same Policy For Coming Winter

WINNIPEG (CP)—W. Duncan of the regional employment office announced Tuesday the policy and procedure laid down by National Selective Service last year regarding professional hockey players will continue in effect during the 1944-45 hockey season.

Selective service permits to enter employment of a professional hockey club in Canada or the United States will be granted to any person not in the age groups designated under the mobilization regulations, or to any person in those age groups who has been rejected for military service, unless the applicant is employed by an establishment of "A" or "B" labor priority rating.

Duncan said that if a person is engaged by an establishment not given an "A" or "B" rating, a permit will not be granted without the consent of the employer and on the understanding that any time lost playing hockey will be made up in order that production will not suffer.

Labor exit permits will be granted subject to civilian regulations and authorization to leave Canada will be given under mobilization regulations, Duncan said.

Another Argument On Merits of Match And Medal Play

By HUGH FULLERTON
NEW YORK (AP)—The recently revived discussion of whether match play provides a true test of golfing ability leaves this corner cold. The argument against match play is that a player can blow a couple of holes with 7s or 8s and still win. But in a 72-hole medal tournament, the guy who ruins a round that way still has three chances to make it up, so what's the difference.

After expending a lot of thought on a scoring system that would give credit both for match-play victories and medal scores, we found no way of making allowances for the ability to win when the chips are down, and it's human fallibility that makes golf interesting. Any good mechanic could devise a machine that would shoot better than Byron Nelson, but no one would put up $10,000 prize money for it to win.

HELL WHISTLE FOR IT

Bill Hells, who takes his money out of oil and puts it into horses, has made such a pet of his $66,000 colt, Pericles, that the horse follows him around Ranocosa Farm and responds eagerly when Hells whistles. When Bill was showing off the horse's tricks to a group of visiting newsmen, he cracked: "If he ever wants to win a race, he'll have to stand at the finish line and whistle."

ONE-MINUTE SPORTS PAGE

Blake Harper, concessions manager at Sportsman's Park, is moaning about the prospective shortage of pop corn for the world series. What could be worse is an over-supply of pop flies.

Middleweight George Kochan, recently discharged from the Coast Guard, has received enough offers to keep him busy fighting every 10 days all winter.

BOWLING MEETING

A meeting of the Arcade senior ten-pin and the commercial ten-pin leagues will be held Friday, Sept. 1 at 8 at the Arcade Alleys.

All last year's players and any new players interested are asked to attend, also any new teams are asked to have a delegate present.

quilt possibly may be solved by Lieut. Fritz Hanson, himself a western pigskin artist of varied accomplishments. Hanson now is sports officer of military district 10, and claims he has a dozen or more former eastern Canada and U.S. college football stars available for a team—if he can find someone to play against. . . . Add brother acts: Vic Love of Dauphin Man, will join brother Bobby on the Oshawa Generals' lineup this winter. . . . None of the armed forces seem to want Gordon Galtay, 300-pound former lineman, with Edmonton, Calgary and Vancouver football teams. He was turned down by the Canadian army on the grounds he was too big, and the U.S. forces also had none of the expected love for the fat man.

Sports Mirror

By PETE SALLAWAY

FIGHT to the finish with no holds barred. That appears to be the story of the city championship baseball series opening tonight between the Navy and Army clubs. Athletic rivalry between the two services is always at a red hot heat, making the playoff a natural from the standpoint of spectator interest. Both clubs have a large following and the fans are expected to be pretty evenly divided in their support. Battling for the city crown is nothing new to the Navy but it is the first time the troops have battled their way to the last round. Tonight's affair is expected to prove a pitching duel between Jimmy Crosato of the Navy and Tony Maze, number one flinger of the Army. Both boys pack a lot of class in their respective flippers and don't be surprised if breaks determine the winner.

MAJOR LEAGUE baseball this season has been highlighted by one of the greatest pitching combinations in the history of the big time. I refer to Hal Newhouse and Dizzy Trout of the Detroit Tigers in the American circuit. With several weeks to go before the decks are cleared for the world series the pair could easily outstrip the 49 victories compiled by the incredible Dean brothers, Dizzy and Paul, in pitching the St. Louis Cardinals to the National League pennant in 1934.

THEY WERE the first major league pitchers to bag 20 games this season and neither minds stepping in to work as a relief hurler to save a game. Trout and Newhouse are roommates and pals. Trout, the right-hander, is the club's cut-up and clown, Southpaw Newhouse has none of the faded whimsy of the left-hander of popular imagination. He is a thoroughly stable kid. The near-sighted Trout can see no more than 60 feet 6 inches, but that happens to be the pitching distance and sufficient. For that reason he rarely wears glasses on the field, although he is behind a pair at all times while off the diamond. Trout is a rousing right-hand hitter for a pitcher. He has smacked five home runs this season and each has won a game. He can't see where the ball goes, but that is totally unimportant when he smacks it out of sight, and there are coaches to guide him when he doesn't.

LIMITED to streaks of brilliance heretofore, Newhouse, six feet two inches tall and weighing 180 pounds, has just found himself at 23. A potential strikeout king, he breaks off a beautiful curve and his fast one whistles by. Detroit hasn't much in the way of handcuffing behind Trout and Newhouse but the Tigers' big two give them a pitching bulge in the run down the stretch.

GATHERED from here and there: Jockey Ike Bassett got a $1,000 bonus for riding Hard Twist to victory in the $10,000 Longacres Mile. That netted him nearly $2,000 for the mile jaunt. . . . They say an athlete's legs are the first things that give away at the seams. Remember Babe Ruth? However, Satchel Paige, the famous negro pitcher, has been hurling for 21 years and his legs always have been so skinny that he wears two pairs of thick stockings so that the crowds won't laugh at him. He has pitched well over 2,000 games and his legs have been dragging around a pair of size 14 shoes.

Island Fishing Good

Steele Hauls In 21

Larger catches, including 21 by Cliff Steele, featured Tuesday's fishing off the south of the island as a frolicking blackfish added to entertainment off the head of trial.

At Brentwood boats were reported bringing in more springs, and Cowichan Bay listed several big fellows in recent hauls.

Steele, who specializes with a Martin plug, had the best boat Tuesday. His largest fish was an 18-pound coho. Other boats operating from the Oak Bay Boat-house returned with one and two fish.

The excitement off trial grew Monday and Tuesday evening when a sportive blackfish appeared among the small boats, some of which were sent scurrying for the shelter of shore at its appearance.

Hugh Creed, at Brentwood, reported catches running up to a dozen fish, mostly springs weighing between 8 and 10 pounds, Tuesday. Fishing had been good for the last couple of days and the Wednesday half-holiday promised to attract a large number of anglers to the inlet.

At Cowichan Bay W. W. Seymour lifted one of the biggest salmon taken this year, a 41-pounder, which gave him a long, hard battle.

ST. LOUIS (AP)—The penant-bound Browns and Cardinals plan a streetcar World Series, in accordance with the wishes of the Office of Defense Transportation, the two clubs disclosed Tuesday.

Both president Sam Breadon of the Cardinals and vice-president William O. Dewitt of the Browns said the sale of tickets would be limited to residents of the St. Louis metropolitan area.

Hottest In 66 Years

The mercury soared to 83 degrees Tuesday to give summer a new lease on life, and Victoria the hottest Aug. 29 in more than 66 years, according to weatherman William Burton, today.

"It's just one of those things that happen," Mr. Burton remarked when asked to give an explanation for the welcome but unusual turn in the weather.

On Aug. 29, last year, the temperature stood at a mere 66 degrees and in 1940 at 78. Though there have been hotter days in August this was the hottest 29th. Temperature for the whole month was below average, and there have been fewer hours of sunshine, Mr. Burton said.

Dr. George M. Weir, acting director of training, federal Department of Pensions and Health, has resigned his government post and will return to the University of British Columbia Sept. 1, the U.B.C. board of governors announced today.

Dr. Weir was formerly professor of education at the U.B.C. He took leave of absence in 1933 and was elected to the provincial Legislature, later being appointed Minister of Education in the Pattullo government.

Defeated in 1941, he later assumed his present duties with the federal government.

Bruce McDowall's War Experiences End In Romance

By DICK FREEMAN

Bruce McDowall, who comes home Thursday, is an unusual war casualty with a romantic background.

In April of this year he was strolling with his bride-to-be along a country road near London when two automobiles approaching from opposite directions crashed into them in the blackout, severely injuring both.

Bruce received head injuries which kept him in a state of unconsciousness for two weeks and both legs of his girl were broken.

But love laughs at locksmiths and broken bones. The two had been talking of marriage and although incapacitated saw no reason why they should not proceed with their marital plans.

So on July 8 last they went from hospital at Basingstoke to the nearby little parish church of Sherburne and were joined in wedlock, the bride going to the altar in a bathchair.

They spent the honeymoon in hospital.

For some weeks now it has been rumored that Bruce and his bride were coming home to Canada.

Tuesday his father, Ernest P. McDowall, 1160 Chapman Street, heard from Bruce who is held temporarily at Shaughnessy Military Hospital at Vancouver for check-up. He said he expected to reach home tomorrow.

Bruce, a former page boy and member of the clerical staff of the Empress Hotel, went overseas in 1939 with the 1st Bn. Canadian Scottish. He is returning home a corporal in the army. He holds the Canadian Efficiency Medal.

His full name is Edward Robert Bruce McDowall, but his many friends here know him only as Bruce.

When he arrives in town tomorrow he will be greeted by many of his friends on the Empress Hotel staff, including Manager J. K. Hodges, with whom he was a great favorite.

Bruce's wife had not sufficiently recovered to travel with her husband. She will come later.

Old Royal Arms Under Wreckers

The old Royal Arms Hotel, once a notable Victoria hostelry, is being demolished. The structure, a three-story brick building, was purchased a short time ago from the city. It is being taken down by Jack Arandell for Safe-way Stores Ltd.

Predating the present century, the building at 1717 Store Street was originally owned by Mrs. Astrico, according to information received at City Hall. Papers covering its construction list John Teague as architect, Colbert and Warner, plumbers, and Thomas Catterall as contractor.

In November, 1882, a special agreement was signed by then mayor Robert Baven granting permission to connect with the sewer system of the day.

The veteran hotel probably reached its popularity peak during the sealing days, when that section of town was near its zenith.

Its demolition at present will help to relieve a brick shortage in the city.

The permit covering the project lists costs at $500. Two other permits granted today include one for $800 fire damage repairs to Peter Hanson's house at 574 Bay Street and a $3,700 conversion of 250 Government into a four-suite apartment under National Housing Administration.

In Police Court

He was born here, educated at Happy Valley School and Victoria High, worked for the C.P.R. and at Yarrow before joining the army. His wife, Bess, is in the C.W.A.C.'s, stationed at Red Deer, Alta.

Pte. R. O. (Bobby) Barr, wounded Aug. 14 while fighting with the South Saskatchewan Regiment in France, will be remembered as the boxer player who on June 23, 1942, playing for Gus Munro's Douglas Tire outfit, scored an even dozen goals against the Oaklands team, setting a record that will stand for some time. He joined up in September, 1942, left for overseas last June. His wife lives at 520 William Street.

Lieut. Maurice Chadwick, R.C.N., will arrive in Victoria Thursday to spend two weeks' leave with his parents, Canon and Mrs. F. A. P. Chadwick. He has been serving as executive officer aboard H.M.C.S. Gattineau and took part in invasion operations off the coast of France. Lieut. Chadwick was mentioned in dispatches in December, 1942, "for courage, resolution and devotion to duty."

Lorimer, 1497 Myrtle Avenue. Born at Calgary, Sgt. Lorimer spent most of his life in North Sooke, where he was educated. He joined the Canadian Scottish Regiment at the outbreak of war and went overseas with his unit in 1941. Three brothers are in the services, two of whom are overseas with the Scottish.

Besides his widow, he is survived by his three-year-old son, Bruce.

18-Year-Old Presents Problem for Court

Lloyd Ricalton, 18, charged with failing to comply with the direction of a selective service officer to accept certain employment, was remanded to Tuesday in city police court today when Magistrate H. C. Hall discovered Ricalton was a juvenile at the time of the alleged offence.

P. J. Sinnott, who pleaded guilty for his client, said Ricalton had volunteered for the navy and was awaiting his call. The court was told by H. A. Beckwith, prosecuting, that the accused had not volunteered for the navy at the time he had refused to comply with the order, but asked that Ricalton be leniently dealt with. Magistrate Hall said he intended to, and adjourned the case to decide on Ricalton's status for trial.

Hon. H. G. T. Perry, Minister of Education and chairman of the B.C.'s Bureau of Postwar Reconstruction, has left for the north to represent the government at the official opening next Monday of the Prince Rupert-Hazelton Highway.

Tourist Cabins and Trailers Now Rate As Housing Space

A number of tourist cabins and automobile trailers in Victoria will be affected by the Wartime Prices and Trade Board, which places them in the housing category from their former classification of hotel accommodation, C. H. Booth, of the Victoria office of the board, said today.

"Just how many places will be affected and which they will be, is not yet known and will not be known until investigations have been made," he added.

G. Stanley Miller, regional rentals officer for British Columbia, said all owners and operators of tourist cabins must now apply for rentals fixation as housing accommodation, instead of hotel rates.

"Due to wartime restrictions, tourist trade has been substantially curtailed, and in many areas where there is an acute shortage of housing, resident war workers have moved into tourist accommodation and have in some cases been paying tourist rates. They are now to be given such accommodation at rentals comparable to those generally prevailing in the same locality for other housing accommodation."

Mr. Miller said that the rentals officer has power to exempt any tourist cabins or automobile trailers from the provisions of the order, if he is satisfied that the accommodation is kept available at all times for occupancy by bona fide tourists or travelers.

Applications for the new rental fixations or exemptions should be made before Sept. 30 to local offices of the Wartime Prices and Trade Board in Vancouver, Victoria, Nanaimo, Prince Rupert, Prince George, Kamloops, Penticton, Vernon, Trail, Nelson and Cranbrook.

"Response to the requests was very gratifying," said Mr. Galloway, "and we want the donors to know how appreciative our patients and we are."

"As more patients are arriving at Colwood all the time, the Victoria public might like to know that gifts of more clubs will be welcome. This provides an opportunity to put to good use any sets of golf clubs and balls that are being laid around the house."

Planes Blast Ports Serving Germans On Russian Front

LONDON (CP)—Large formations of U.S. bombers battered the continent today, bombing the German ports of Kiel and Bremen through clouds and the robot platforms in northern France.

Very heavy forces of British and Canadian bombers before dawn supported the Russian armies of the north with attacks on the Nazi Baltic ports of Stettin and Königsberg, and Mosquitoes hurled many two-ton block-busters on battered Berlin and Hamburg.

Weather was bad today and bombers cast their explosives by instruments through clouds. A communique said one bomber was lost over the robot bomb sites and all fighters returned. No mention was made of losses over the German objectives.

Up to 500 heavy bombers with fighter escort smashed at the Pas de Calais targets. More than 500 heavy bombers and 250 fighters went over the German ports.

The flying bomb targets are just in front of advancing Allied armies in northern France.

CANADIANS RAID STETTIN

More than 1,000 heavy bombers participated in the overnight attacks, unloading approximately 1,500 tons of high explosives and incendiaries on Stettin and another great cargo of destruction upon Königsberg. Forty-one bombers failed to return.

Canadian participation in the operations was concentrated in the Stettin raid.

This twin blow was in direct support of Russian armies battering at Germany's eastern frontiers. Both the Baltic port of Stettin and the East-Prussian capital of Königsberg are important links in German supply lines leading to the Russian front.

An hour after the attack on Stettin, the Air Ministry said, reconnaissance revealed smoke from very large fires rising to a great height.

Clouds prevented clear observation of the results at Königsberg, which was attacked for the second time in four nights.

Both Berlin and Hamburg were hit by speedy Mosquitoes, which carry a bomb load of 4,000 pounds.

The Air Ministry said that in the overnight operations many mines were laid in enemy waters.

Miss Lillian Ogilvie Dies In Hospital

Miss Margaret Lillian Ogilvie, 63, prominent contributor to and worker in Victoria's social service field, died in Royal Jubilee Hospital Tuesday.

She arrived in this city about 16 years ago, and became an important figure in the affairs of the Women's Workroom, the Canadian Institute for the Blind, the Little Theatre movement, and other organizations in which her energy and generosity proved a major factor.

She lived at 2660 Landsdowne Road, Uplands.

Born in Montreal, a member of the well-known milling family, she is survived by two sisters, Mrs. F. A. Moseley of Goderich, Ont., and Mrs. J. P. Rae, Montreal, and a brother, J. S. Ogilvie of Sidney, B.C.

Private funeral services will be conducted in Hayward's B.C. Funeral Chapel.

RIO THEATRE

Reginald Owen was accused of vanity when he made his first scenes for "Somewhere I'll Find You," currently at the Rio Theatre. He stopped to stare at himself every time he passed a mirror. "Do you think you're pretty?" Diana Lewis asked him. Owen managed to blush and explain. Seems in "I Married an Angel" he wore a long, grey beard for three months. He was getting used to his clean chin again.

Reeve Talks Saanich Council Out of Action On Amalgamation

Heated discussion took place in Saanich Council Tuesday night following a proposal by Councillor K. W. Richmond that negotiations be made with the Greater Victoria committee to see what they had to offer in the way of amalgamation.

Reeve E. C. Warren opposed the move, and said debt-free Saanich could not profit by an amalgamation with Victoria which, he said, had debts amounting to $12,000,000.

Councillor George Austin asked that a plebiscite be called so that the people might decide the question of amalgamation themselves. Reeve Warren contended sitting on the Greater Victoria committee would involve payment of experts to bring forward plans and possibilities of the municipality in any proposed secession.

SAANICH WELL OFF
Financial status of Saanich, stated the reeve, was better than that of most other municipalities.

Saanich being able to get money at 3 per cent, comparable with interest paid by the Dominion government in making loans.

He did not approve of Saanich losing its entity, he said, and held no move for amalgamation should be made until the people signified their wish for it by petitions and delegations.

Councillor Robert Noble, said he approved of a Greater Victoria, and was sure there were many ways in which Saanich would benefit. There would be advantages of technical and other schools, he said.

The reeve asked if joining in a Greater Victoria would make any of Councillor Noble's suggested improvements any less in cost to Saanich, and it was said it would not.

Councillor Richmond said there was no use saying the people of Saanich were not thinking of amalgamation, and it was the duty of the council to help those people think on the problem.

The motion was tabled.

Air Benefit Fund Functions Smoothly Says Marshal Nairn

By DICK FREEMAN
Air Vice-Marshal K. G. Nairn, R.C.A.F., member of the air council for finance, Ottawa, who is in Victoria today on an all-Canadian tour to perfect the machinery for administering the R.C.A.F. Benevolent Fund, said: "We are now taking active steps to really make the fund function under the new charter."

This fund, which now totals between $600,000 and $700,000, with an objective of three to four millions, is a non-profit company through which assistance is provided in an emergency to air service personnel and their families.

It was started in 1934 in a small way with three trustees, who found they were so restricted they could not make it function properly. So it was decided to incorporate the fund under government charter, which was done about six weeks ago.

"I want all to know that the facilities of this fund are available to them," said the air vice-marshal, emphasizing these facilities would also be available to them and their dependents after the termination of the war.

The men of the service are conscious of their problems and are glad to be able to get the grants, he said.

Air Vice-Marshal Nairn said the benevolent fund was for the benefit of all connected with the air force in the past, present or future. There were no fixed payments. The fund, which is operated on a purely voluntary basis, is subscribed to by R.C.A.F. personnel and organizations like Wings for Britain turn over funds to it. To anyone in need, aid is given, regardless of circumstance. Interest-free loans and grants are made through civilian committees, which have been formed to administer the activities of the fund.

The B.C. committee is composed of Clarence Wallace of Wallace Shipbuilders; Richard Bell-Ing, Mrs. G. F. Strong, all of Vancouver, and Sgt. W. E. Ireland, R.C.A.F. To this committee will be added a woman member of the R.C.A.F. (W.D.). A sub-committee is being formed in Victoria to work in conjunction with the provincial committee.

Committees are now in existence at the air stations. It was indicated by the air vice-marshal that provision is made in the administration of the fund for bursaries and school scholarships as well as giving support to summer camps for children.

'My Love Came Back' Coming to York

A brown-eyed blonde with an effervescent personality, the sort of figure you see on those barber shop calendars, a reticent nose and an insatiable appetite for having fun is part Jane Wyman, appearing with Olivia de Havilland, Jeffrey Lynn, Eddie Albert, Charles Winninger and Spring Byington in Warner Bros. "My Love Came Back," which opens at the York Theatre tomorrow.

Jane's is just such a role as those that have brought her, step by step during the past four years, into the Hollywood limelight. She has played supporting roles in 20 pictures in this time, but the present one is one of the most important of the list, and seems certain to lead to bigger things.

Hereafter, if Edward Arnold the actor, wants to take off weight, he's going to go in for his poundage whittling activities only between pictures.

This decision follows the advice he got from Elliott Nugent, director of the new Paramount comedy, "Nothing But the Truth," in which Arnold is featured with stars Bob Hope and Paulette Goddard. During filming of the laugh-fest, Nugent said Arnold's steady loss of weight was beginning to make him look different in succeeding scenes.

"In 'Nothing But the Truth,' which arrived today at the Atlas Theatre, Arnold will be seen at his slimmest in years—a sylph-like 215 pounds.

CAPITOL THEATRE
The Fred MacMurray musical talents have been called on again. "Angels Sing," now playing at the Capitol Theatre. Keeping pace with Fred in the merry scramble are Betty Hutton, Dorothy Lamour, Diana Lynn and Mimi Chander, an eyeful of feminine charms.

Cast as a band leader, it isn't the first time Fred's tooted a saxophone and warbled a tune. MacMurray's musical background, in fact, led him to a screen career.

DOMINION THEATRE
Robert Warwick, famous character actor, has one of his most important roles in Republic's sensational high-budget production, "Man From Frisco," which is now at the Dominion Theatre.

The lavish photoplay stars Michael O'Shea as the young engineer with a burning conviction that America's war destiny is shaped by her shipbuilding industry, and lovely Anne Shirley who has to choose between his proven stabilities and a fabulous dream.

OAK BAY AND PLAZA THEATRES
The pioneer women who braved storm, desert and Indians have nothing on the women of Johnny "Scat" Davies' family. These unassuming heroines were the wives of three generations of trumpet players. Johnny's grandfather, John Davis I, and his father, John Davis II, who were both expert trumpet players and Johnny, himself, representing the present generation. Actually it wasn't tough on the ladies of the Davis family because all of the Davis men were such expert trumpeters. But think of all the practicing those ladies had to listen to!

Anyhow, with a background of music like that, Johnny "Scat" Davis, playing the "second comedy lead in the hilarious comedy, "Knickerbocker Holiday," currently at the Oak Bay and Plaza Theatres through United Artists release, could not help but follow in his father's footsteps... or should we say trumpet notes?

CADET THEATRE
The part of Father Donnelly, who never missed a man's fight... nor asked a man's creed, is played by Preston Foster in 20th Century-Fox's stirring filming of Richard Tregaskis' "Guadalcanal Diary," currently at the Cadet Theatre. Featured with Foster in the cast are Lloyd Nolan, William Bendix, Richard Conte and Anthony Quinn.

H.M.C.S. Prince Henry, under Capt. V. S. Godfrey of Victoria, B.C., landed troops on the Isle de Levant in the invasion of southern France. Here, just before the landing party set out the ship's company held a church service on the quarterdeck, conducted by Chaplain F. H. Godfrey of Truro, N.S.

The men also had a swim in the warm waters of the Mediterranean before the invasion. In this picture are: Stkrs. ## U.S. Navy to Give Japs Greater Blows

By JAMES J. STREIB

WASHINGTON (AP)—The United States Navy, reviewing the thumpings handed to both ends of the Axis in the past 12 months, declared that "these blows were light compared with the blows we are now prepared to deliver."

Commenting on the progress of the navy's air arm, which marks its 31st anniversary today, Vice-Admiral Aubrey W. Fitch, deputy chief of naval operations for air said in a statement:

"Task Force 58, which scoured the Jap so effectively in the last eight months, was just a sweet, summer zephyr compared to the arrangements of ships, planes and other weapons—old and new—which are ready to lash out now."

He disclosed the navy now has approximately 100 carriers "in or near action." Included are 14 of the mighty Essex type and nine of the fast and powerful independence class, converted from cruisers. More than 70 carriers were commissioned during the year and work was started on two of the three projected 45,000-ton battleship-type carriers.

Naval aviators averaged more than four Japanese planes shot down for every U.S. plane lost during the year, Fitch said. The actual score was more than 2,300 Japanese craft destroyed against 580 navy planes lost.

Slovakian Puppets Fear Guerrillas

NEW YORK (AP)—Gen. Ferdinand Catlos, commander in chief of Slovakia's armed forces, announced in a broadcast over the Bratislava radio Tuesday German troops were carrying out a full scale occupation of the Nazi-established puppet state amid continuing guerrilla activity.

In his broadcast, which was reported by the Federal Communications Commission, Gen. Catlos appealed to the people to receive the Germans as Allies and to obey "only government orders" and not be swayed by the guerrillas.

The puppet Slovak authorities declared martial law Aug. 12 because of "the general war situation" and because, they said, "groups of parachutists" had been dropped in several mountain regions of eastern and northeastern Slovakia.

Asks $2,700 Damages

VANCOUVER (CP)—Thomas J. Brown of Courtenay, B.C., began action in British Columbia Supreme Court Tuesday to obtain $2,700 damages from Batco Development Co. of Vancouver.

The suit was the result of a fire at one of Batco's operations on Vancouver Island last August. Brown claims his donkey engine, valued at $2,700, was destroyed in the fire.

Raids Smash Japs On 4,000-Mile Front

WASHINGTON (AP)—Striking on a 4,000-mile front, U.S. planes blasted Japanese positions from the north to the central Pacific in a series of week-end raids, the navy reported Tuesday.

Far to the north, at Paramushiro, several fires were left blazing by army heavy bombers pounding that northernmost island in Japan's Kurile chain.

Two Jims, recently attacked almost daily, was bombed again by another force which met only moderate anti-aircraft opposition in the assault on that Volcano Island base less than 700 miles south of Tokyo.

Other bombers hit Pagan in the northern Marianas Island group, battering buildings and gun emplacements; attacked through meagre anti-aircraft fire on Yap in the western Carolines, and continued neutralization raids on enemy positions in the mid-Pacific Marshalls.

Today, you may find it difficult to obtain quick and reliable service for needed house repairs on short notice. So Johns-Manville suggests that if you're going to need any work done soon, get started now.

This is particularly important if it has to do with your roof. Should it need repairs or re-roofing, a bad storm might have serious consequences if you wait. Your J.M. dealer will be glad to inspect your roof—and if a new one is required you'll find that Johns-Manville Asphalt Shingles will make your roof weathertight and fire-resistant. Ask about J.M. "Flexstone" Asphalt Shingles. They're made on a base of heavy fireproof asbestos, and they retain their colorful beauty. V.I. Hardwood Floor, 707 Johnson Street, Garden 7314.

One Woman's Day...

By NANCY HODGES

WEEDS GO TO WAR

REFERENCE IN THIS column some days ago to the use of portulaca for war-time camouflage purposes brought me a number of letters from nature lovers who were not aware of its possibilities.

So I was interested to see in a trade journal of current date an illuminating article on the part milkweed is playing in the war.

Because the Japanese bottled up the supply of kapok in Java, scientists set out to find a substitute for filling life-preservers for the use of the armed forces.

After extensive research it was found that the seeds of the milkweed yield a silky floss which has proved an excellent substitute for kapok.

A BIG HARVEST

AS IT TAKES about two bushels of the pod to fill one life jacket, the U.S. government last year inaugurated a campaign to harvest the weed.

Farmers and families in Michigan—where it thrives—responded with enough pods to make 93,000 pounds of floss.

This year an army of Boy Scouts, Girl Guides and others got under way in 26 states, from Minnesota to Texas, from Maine to Virginia.

The goal is 1,500,000 pounds of floss—and that represents a lot of milkweed pods! The pods are processed by the Milkweed Floss Corp. of America, at its plant in Petoskey, Mich.

NEW CANADIAN INDUSTRY? SAID TO BE the only plant of its kind in the world, this factory converts the pods to floss by a rolling, ginning and blowing process.

Canada, too, is interested in the process. Government authorities visited Petoskey last year and made an intensive study of the operations.

They are interested not only in the floss but also in the latex contained in the leaves and the alpha-cellulose in the stalks.

These suggest a possibility that the leaves and pods may provide a source of chlorophyll and furfural—whatever that may be.

In any event, steps already have been taken to harvest milkweed this fall in the provinces of Ontario and Quebec, with a view to starting an industry in Canada.

HAS UNPLEASANT ODOR INCIDENTALLY, upholstery dealers and importers of filler material eye it somewhat askance.

For, after trying the very little which found its way into civilian products they look upon it strictly as an emergency substitute for kapok.

Because, they claim, it has a distinctive unpleasant odor, it is less resilient than kapok, and absorbs moisture too readily from the air.

However, I am sure any soldier, sailor or airman who owed his life to a milkweed-filled life jacket would gladly overlook its divergence from violets.

WEEDS AND BEAUTY

IT ISN'T EVERY weed that is chosen for war purposes. Many another has been born merely to blush unseen and waste its beauty on our vacant lots.

But I often think that some of them would be cultivated with care and given a greater measure of respect were they not so profuse.

Traveling up to Shawigan a few weeks ago, I admired from the train window the heavenly blue of the wild chicory which flourishes beside the tracks.

According to a well-known Victoria naturalist, it is a garden escape from early days. Its name suggests that our pioneers grew it to mix with coffee, a European practice.

While in the eastern States in May, I made acquaintance with a delightful pink weed quaintly called Bouncing Bet.

MY LADY'S WASHBOWL

IMPORTED FROM Europe as a garden pink many years ago, it escaped to the roadside and went wild—like many another beauty, alas!

In England it is known as the soapwort—an ugly name. I like that given it by the southern States—My Lady's Washbowl—much better.

But both names are attributable to its cleansing qualities. The soapy sap exuded by its root was used as a substitute for soap in remote part of Europe for generations.

And now that war's privations have made soap practically unobtainable, the humble soapwort is again being used.

Like many another wayside flower whose adaptability has reduced it to a common weed, Bouncing Bet has no appeal for the effete.

It is passed by—its beauty overshadowed by some other more exotic, flamboyant product of intensive culture.

As an article in the New York Times said of it some time ago:

"It grows too easily and is too free with its blossoms to make much of a name for itself. All it has is a past and a pale pink flower. And maybe a moral hidden somewhere in its history."
